Women Musicians of Uzbekistan
From Courtyard to Conservatory
TANYA MERCHANT
“Merchant offers a nuanced, intelligent understanding of the relationship between gender and musical culture in contemporary Uzbek society. In addressing the place of women in the musical life of the country, she throws light not only on the music but also on how the music has negotiated and contributed to the historical dynamic that has existed since the Soviet Union annexed Uzbekistan.”—Choice
224 pp. 6 x 9. 18 b & w photos, 1 map. 2015. Paperback 978-0-252-08106-4. $26.00; E-book Publication supported by the AMS 75 PAYS Endowment of the American Musicological Society

Stunning Males and Powerful Females
Gender and Tradition in East Javanese Dance
CHRISTINA SUNARDI
“In clear language and through richly textured ethnographic work, Sunardi develops a nuanced account of an ever-changing landscape of gender ideology as it is negotiated through the study, performance, and discourse of dance in east Java.”—Henry Spiller, author of Erotic Triangles: Sundanese Dance and Masculinity in West Java
256 pp. 6 x 9. 18 b & w photos, 8 line drawings, 2 maps, 1 chart. 2015. Paperback 978-0-252-08059-3. $30.00; E-book

A Feminist Ethnomusicology
Writings on Music and Gender
ELLEN KOSKOFF
Foreword by Suzanne Cusick
“This volume represents 40 years of research and writing by one of the most influential ethnomusicologists in the discipline. . . . One of the characteristic features of this book is the author’s voice, captured in a writing style built on a cadence that draws the reader into the heart of the narrative.”—Ethnomusicology Forum
256 pp. 6 x 9. 1 chart, 4 music examples, 2 tables. 2014. Paperback 978-0-252-08007-4. $32.00; E-book

Roll Over, Tchaikovsky!
Russian Popular Music and Post-Soviet Homosexuality
STEPHEN AMICO
“Adroitly fusing ideas derived from queer theory with an interest in the recent affective turn in the humanities, Roll Over, Tchaikovsky! Russian Popular Music and Post-Soviet Homosexuality will be of interest not just to specialists in Russian popular culture but to scholars of national identity and contemporary society too.”—Slavic Review
336 pp. 6 x 9. 9 music examples, 13 tables. 2017. Paperback 978-0-252-08308-2. $30.00; E-book Marcia Herndon Prize, Gender and Sexualities Section of the Society for Ethnomusicology

In Her Own Words
Conversations with Composers in the United States
JENNIFER KELLY
“A telling exploration of the role of women composing in the US across the last half-century and more, and a discussion of the status afforded them in a still largely androcentric industry, Jennifer Kelly brings an informed sensibility to bear that prompts much revealing commentary by her individual subjects in an intelligently structured volume . . . it is an essential read.”—Classical Music