

Contents

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction: A Modernism of the City i

PART I: INVENTING THE NEW VERSE

1. American Poetry on the Brink, 1905–12 9
2. Poetry's Opening Door: Harriet Monroe and American Modernism 26
3. Young, Blithe, and Whimsical: The Avant-Gardism of The Masses 54
4. There Is Always Others: Experimental Verse and “Ulterior Social Result” 79
5. Volunteers of America, 1917: The Seven Arts and the Great War 118

PART II: KEYS TO THE CITY

6. Gutter and Skyline: The New Verse and the Metropolitan Cityscape 147
 7. Footprints of the Twentieth Century: American Skyscrapers, Modern Poems 180
 8. Subway Fare: Toward a Poetics of Rapid Transit 217
- Notes 263
- Bibliography 303
- Index 327