

contents

Preface vii

Acknowledgments xiii

Introduction: Deconstruction and Bricolage, and
Other Themes of the Post-Judson Era 1
Melanie Bales

part i: bricolage

---

1. A Dancing Dialectic 10
Melanie Bales
2. A New York Dancer 22
Veronica Dittman
3. Training as the Medium Through Which 28
Melanie Bales
4. A Dance-Musician's Perspective:
An Interview with Natalie Gilbert 43
Melanie Bales
5. Something Old, Something New,
Something Borrowed 52
Joshua Monten

6. Ballet for the Post-Judson Dancer 68
Melanie Bales

part ii: deconstruction

---

7. Somatics: An Interview with
Martha Myers 89
Rebecca Nettle-Fiol
8. First It Was Dancing 101
Rebecca Nettle-Fiol
9. Re-Locating Technique 126
Wendell Beavers
10. Teaching Alignment 134
Glenna Batson
11. Falling, Releasing, and
Post-Judson Dance 153
Melanie Bales

part iii: training stories

---

12. Training Stories

Chris Aiken 170	Stephen Koester 215
David Dorfman 176	Ralph Lemon 219
Kathleen Fisher 184	Bebe Miller 224
Karen Graham 188	Tere O'Connor 229
Mark Haim 193	Cynthia Oliver 231
Angie Hauser 197	Janet Panetta 236
Sara Hook 205	Kraig Patterson 240
Irène Hultman 210	Shelley Washington 245

Contributors 251

Index 255