

Contents

List of Illustrations ix

Acknowledgments xiii

Introduction 1

Part I. The Social Origins of Ethnic Tradition: Food, Family, and Community in Italian Harlem

1. The Contested Table: Food, Gender, and Generations
in Italian Harlem, 1920–1930 19
2. “Sunday Dinner? You Had to Be There!”:
Making Food, Family, and Nation in Italian Harlem, 1930–1940 47
3. An American Foodscape:
Food, Place, and Race in Italian Harlem 72

Part II. Producing and Consuming Italian American Identities: The Ethnic Food Trade

4. The American Business of Italian Food:
Producers, Consumers, and the Making of Ethnic Identities 105
5. “Buy Italian!”: Imports, Diasporic Nationalism, and the Politics of Authenticity 155

6. Serving Ethnicity: Italian Restaurants, American Eaters, and the Making of an Ethnic Popular Culture 180

Epilogue 211

Notes 219

Index 257