

Contents

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction: A Contradictory Moment 1

PART I: DIGITAL CAPITALISM'S ASCENT TO CRISIS

1. Network Connectivity and Labor Systems 13
2. Networked Production and Reconstructed
Commodity Chains 27
3. Networked Financialization 43
4. Networked Militarization 57

PART II: THE RECOMPOSITION OF COMMUNICATIONS

5. The Historical Run-Up 73
6. Web Communications Commodity Chains 83
7. Services and Applications 115
8. The Sponsor System Resurgent 125
9. Growth amid Depression? 142

PART III: GEOPOLITICS AND SOCIAL PURPOSE

10. A Struggle for Growth 151
 11. “A New Foreign Policy Imperative” 161
 12. Taking Care of Business: The Internet
at the U.S. Commerce Department 170
 13. Beyond a U.S.-centric Internet? 185
 14. Accumulation and Repression 211
 15. From Geopolitics to Social and Political Struggle 229
- Notes 247
- Index 349