

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction: From Labor Liberalism to Neoliberalism	1
1 “A New Era of Labor Relations”: Teachers and the Public-Sector Labor Problem	26
2 Teacher Power, Black Power, and the Fracturing of Labor Liberalism	56
3 “Who Is Going to Run the Schools?” Teacher Strikes and the Urban Crises of 1972–73	82
4 Dropping Dead: Teachers, the New York City Fiscal Crisis, and Austerity	114
5 The Pittsburgh Teacher Strike of 1975–76 and the Crisis of the Labor-Liberal Coalition	143
6 The “Fed-up Taxpayer”: St. Louis, Philadelphia, and the Eclipse of the Labor-Liberal Coalition	160
Conclusion: Teacher Unions and the American Political Imagination	192
Notes	199
Bibliography	233
Index	243