

Contents

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction: Women, Education, and the New South 1

- 1 The “Perfection of Sacred Womanhood”:
Educating Young Ladies at the Lucy Cobb Institute, 1880–1908 14
  - 2 Clubwomen, Educators, and a Congresswoman:
Lucy Cobb Alumnae 46
  - 3 Training “Leaders of Their Own Race”:
The Educational Mission of Spelman Seminary 68
  - 4 Respectability and Reform: Spelman Alumnae 101
- Conclusion: Race, Respectability, and Sexuality in Women’s Education 125

Notes 131

Bibliography 191

Index 215