Preface vii
Acknowledgments xiii

Introduction: Regendering Public Spaces 1

PART I. RESPONDING TO DANGER, DEMANDING PLEASURE: SEXUALITIES IN THE STREETS
1 Safe Space? Encountering Difference at Take Back the Night 21
2 Enacting Spiritual Connection and Performing Deviance: Celebrating Dyke Communities 41
3 SlutWalks: Engaging Virtual and Topographic Public Spaces 60

PART II. GENDERED RESPONSES TO WAR: DEPLOYING FEMININITIES
4 Demonstrating Peace: Women in Black’s Witness Space 91
5 Uncivil Disobedience: CODEPINK’s Unruly Democratic Practice 109

PART III. ENGENDERING CITIZENSHIP PRACTICES: WOMEN MARCH ON WASHINGTON
6 Embodied Affective Citizenship: Negotiating Complex Terrain in the March for Women’s Lives 135
Participatory Maternal Citizenship: The Million Mom March and Challenges to Gender and Spatial Norms  159

Conclusion: Holding Space: The Affective Functions of Public Demonstration  177

Notes  185

Works Cited  197

Index  215