

Contents

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction 1

PART I: TRANSITIONS

- 1 From Apartheid to a New Democracy: Areas of Shift 17
- 2 “This Time for Africa”? Global Media Studies and the View from the South 47
- 3 A Changing Media Culture: Professional Ideologies between Past and Present 58

PART II: LOCAL CONTESTATIONS

- 4 Is This Freedom? Media Ethics, “African Culture,” and Universal Values 79
- 5 Global Genres and Local Context: What Controversies around Tabloidization Tell Us about South African Media and Society 97
- 6 Rethinking Global and Local: South African Perspectives on the “Future of Journalism” 112

PART III: GLOBAL SHIFTS

- 7 BRICS and Beyond: Mediating New Geopolitical Relationships 135
  - 8 New Pressures and Opportunities: Technology, Geopolitics, and Social Change 152
- Conclusion 167
- Notes 173
- References 191
- Index 211