

Contents

PREFACE	Forgotten Feminist	vii
	Acknowledgments.	xiii
INTRODUCTION	“A Woman’s Work” and “The Work of the World”	1
CHAPTER ONE	Becoming a Breckinridge: A Kentucky Childhood	11
CHAPTER TWO	Preparation for Citizenship: An “All-Around Girl” at Wellesley College	30
CHAPTER THREE	Striving for the Ideal: Female Achievement and the Family Claim	57
CHAPTER FOUR	Academic Activism: Social Science and Social Reform in Progressive-Era Chicago	81
CHAPTER FIVE	The Other Chicago School: The School of Social Service Administration	118
CHAPTER SIX	Defining Equality: Fairness and Feminism	142

CHAPTER SEVEN	Women against War: An International Movement for Peace and Justice	169
CHAPTER EIGHT	The Potential and Pitfalls of Pan-American Feminism.	201
CHAPTER NINE	Toward a National Minimum: Women Building the Welfare State	229
CHAPTER TEN	“A and B”: A Productive Partnership	261
EPILOGUE	Passionate Patience	279
	Notes	287
	Index	361