Raced to Death in 1920s Hawai‘i
Injustice and Revenge in the Fukunaga Case
JONATHAN Y. OKAMURA
“The color line in the United States has historically been and continues to be White vs. Black, yet the salient strength of Raced to Death is to make evident that the color line is, more accurately, White vs. Non-White.”—Karen L. Ishizuka, author of Serve the People: Making Asian America in the Long Sixties

The Labor of Care
Filipina Migrants and Transnational Families in the Digital Age
VALERIE FRANCISCO-MENCHAVEZ
“The Labor of Care advances a burgeoning literature on both care work and transnational families in creative and significant ways. This book will make a significant intervention in the literature on transnational domestic workers, their families, and definitions of family.”—Eileen Boris, coauthor of Caring for America: Home Health Workers in the Shadow of the Welfare State
258 pp. 6 x 9. 9 b & w photos, 1 chart, 1 table. 2018.

Muncie, India(na)
Middletown and Asian America
HIMANEE GUPTA-CARLSON
“Gupta-Carlson brings a much-needed perspective to Middletown studies. But she also addresses pressing questions about what it means to be an American today. Through careful reflection and analysis, she develops a compelling case for the importance of involved and sustained dialogues that bridge difference.”—Luke Eric Lassiter, coauthor of The Other Side of Middletown
238 pp. 6 x 9. 4 b & w photos, 2 tables. 2018.
Paperback 978-0-252-08344-0. $27.95;

Disrupting Kinship
Transnational Politics of Korean Adoption in the United States
KIMBERLY D. MCKEE
“Unpacks the macro and micro dimensions of adoption’s impact on the lives of Korean adoptees, and charts the development of what she calls the transnational adoption industrial complex. Disrupting Kinship is required reading.”—Catherine Ceniza Choy, author of Global Families: A History of Asian American Adoption in America
250 pp. 6 x 9. 5 b & w photos. 2019.
Paperback 978-0-252-08405-8. $26.00;

The Work of Mothering
Globalization and the Filipino Diaspora
HARROD J. SUAREZ
“The Work of Mothering brilliantly shows how the figure of the Filipina mother as a national symbol and transnational worker becomes a gateway to engaging and challenging nationalist and globalist projects.”—Roderick Ferguson, author of The Reorder of Things: The University and Its Pedagogies of Minority Difference
Paperback 978-0-252-08326-2. $30.00;
E-book 978-0-252-05004-6. $27.00

Discriminating Sex
White Leisure and the Making of the American “Oriental”
AMY SUYEYOSHI
“Suyeysyi’s scholarship is sure to astonish as she demonstrates that Euro-American views of gender/sexuality—both their own and of people of color—are imaginaries formed in a crucible of desire, fear, and power.”—Lane Ryo Hirabayashi, author of Japanese American Resettlement through the Lens: Nikaru Carl Iwasaki and the WRA’s Photographic Section, 1943–1945
228 pp. 6 x 9. 8 b & w photos. 2018.

Narratives of Disenchantment and the Model Minority
ELEANOR TY
“What is most illuminating is the interdisciplinary research that Ty brings to the conversation, histori- torically and culturally contextualizing these Asian failures as a result of racial discourses, neoliberal economic policies, globalization, and the traumas of war and dislocation.” —Canadian Literature 172 pp. 6 x 9. 6 b & w photos, 1 table. 2017. Paperback 978-0-252-08235-1. $30.00; E-book 978-0-252-09938-0. $27.00 2017-2018 Asian/Pacific American Award for Literature for Adult Non-Fiction from the Asian/Pacific American Librarians Association

The Minor Intimacies of Race
Asian Publics in North America
CHRISTINE KIM
“A worthwhile discussion of Asian Canadian and Asian American culture and its fraught relationship with the tenets of official multiculturalism. This beautifully captures the registers and modalities of feeling produced in more conventional novels as well as aesthetically experimental works.” —Josephine Lee, coeditor of Asian American Plays for a New Generation 200 pp. 8 x 9. 5 b & w photos. 2016. Paperback 978-0-252-08162-0. $30.00; E-book 978-0-252-09833-8. $27.00 Publication of this book was supported by a grant from Simon Fraser University

Chinese in the Woods
Logging and Lumbering in the American West
SUE FAWN CHUNG
“Chung’s original work opens new vistas on the experience of Chinese and the building of the West. It is a story of labor but also of ethnic experience, trans-Pacific relations, business, and 19th century technologies. A great read!” —Gordon H. Chang, co-editor of Chinese American Voices: From the Gold Rush to the Present 264 pp. 6.125 x 9.25. 15 b & w photos, 4 maps, 8 tables. 2015. Hardcover 978-0-252-03944-7. $55.00; E-book 978-0-252-08995-3. $30.00

Building Filipino Hawai‘i
RODERICK N. LABRADOR
“Labrador provides an engaging and thoughtful study of Filipinos in Hawai‘i, demonstrating how they have struggled to define and/or reframe their identity in the diaspora, by moving from the margins of Hawai‘i’s society to becoming an integral part of it, while also maintaining their sense of Filipino-ness.” —Rudy P. Guevarra Jr., author of Becoming Mexipino: Multilethic Identities and Communities in San Diego 192 pp. 6 x 9. 20 b & w photos. 2015. Paperback 978-0-252-08036-4. $30.00; E-book 978-0-252-09676-1. $27.00 Best Book Award in the Social Sciences, Filipino Section of the Association for Asian American Studies, 2018

Chino
Anti-Chinese Racism in Mexico, 1880–1940
JASON OLIVER CHANG
“Chang’s proposition that Mexican national identity is created on the back of images and discourses of the Chinese is well-argued. His novel ‘new mestizo studies’ situates ideas about race, ethnicity, and in-betweenness within the broader Americas and thus is a critical text for multiple fields of inquiry.” —Jeffrey Lesser, author of Immigration, Ethnicity, and National Identity in Brazil, 1808 to the Present 278 pp. 6.125 x 9.25. 12 b & w photos, 2 line drawings, 7 maps, 2 tables. 2017. Paperback 978-0-252-08234-4. $28.00; E-book 978-0-252-09935-9. $25.20

Legitimizing Empire
Filipino American and U.S. Puerto Rican Cultural Critique
FAYE CARONAN
“Legitimizing Empire places the Philippine and Puerto Rican cases in dialogue to tell distinct stories about US national history and identity with which these nations are intertwined. A fascinating and wonderfully original archive of Filipino and Puerto Rican performance and activism.” —Allan Isaac, author of American Tropics: Articulating Filipino America 208 pp. 6 x 9. 9 b & w photos. 2015. Paperback 978-0-252-08086-9. $30.00; E-book 978-0-252-09892-5. $23.40

Islanders in the Empire
Filipino and Puerto Rican Laborers in Hawai‘i
JOANNA POBLETE
“An innovative approach that adds nuance to our knowledge of Hawai‘i’s immigrant workers . . . Poblete is successful in shifting our attention to empire and away from insular island accounts of Hawaiian history, and in the process offers ideas for new questions about Hawai‘i’s place in a much wider American colonial project.” —American Historical Review 248 pp. 6 x 9. 2 b & w photos, 5 maps. 2014. Paperback 978-0-252-08361-3. $25.00; E-book 978-0-252-09674-7. $22.50 Best Book Award in History, Filipino Section of the Association for Asian American Studies, 2018
