Dissident Feminisms

Dissident Feminisms
Feminism, Imperialism, and Transnational Solidarity
EDITED BY ELORA HALIM CHOWDHURY AND LIZ PHILIPOSE

“Chowdhury and Philiopose’s volume reminds us that friendship is fraught terrain. . . . Yet their contributors urge us to continue to dream of the promise of connection, consciousness, and transformation that dissident friendships make possible.”
—Jennifer Nash, author of The Black Body in Ecstasy: Reading Race, Reading Pornography
272 pp. 6 x 9. 2016. Paper 978-0-252-08188-0. $30.00; E-book

Politicking Creative Economy
Activism and a Hunger Called Theater
DIA DA COSTA

“Da Costa provides powerful analytic tools to interrogate the ways activists such as Bird Song work within and against the complicities and potentialities of neoliberal creative economy discourse and practice. . . . A powerful feminist intervention.”
—Antipode

Feminist and Human Rights Struggles in Peru
Decolonizing Transitional Justice
PASCHA BUENO-HANSEN

“Cutting-edge and original. Bueno-Hansen reveals the meaning behind the rhetoric of human rights promotion in the aftermath of conflict.”
240 pp. 6 x 9. 4 b & w photos, 4 maps, 2 tables. 2015. Paperback 978-0-252-08100-2. $28.00; E-book

Muddying the Waters
Coauthoring Feminisms across Scholarship and Activism
RICHA NAGAR

“Muddying the Waters is a searching memoir of one woman’s struggle with struggle itself. It breaks from the typical academic genre . . . . The prose is self-critical, courageous, poetic, and open-hearted. The book cannot be read dispassionately by anyone who sees their own reflection in that bird’s travail.”
—Gender, Place & Culture

In a Classroom of Their Own
The Intersection of Race and Feminist Politics in All-Black Male Schools
KEISHA LINDSAY

Keisha Lindsay explores the complex politics of ABMS by situating them within broader efforts as neoliberal education reform and within specific conversations about both “endangered” black males and a “boy crisis.” Lindsay also demonstrates that intersectionality, long considered feminist, is in fact a politically fluid framework that may allow groups to navigate the racial and gendered politics that divide them.

Against Citizenship
The Violence of the Normative

“Reaches broadly across and deeply into queer, feminist, Indigenous and critical race studies to expose the irredeemable violences of U.S. citizenship.”
—Noelani Goodyear-Kaopua, coeditor of A Nation Rising: Hawaiian Movements for Life, Land, and Sovereignty
236 pp. 6 x 9. 2016. Paperback 978-0-252-08188-0. $30.00; E-book

Beyond Partition
Gender, Violence, and Representation in Postcolonial India
DEEPTI MISRI

“This brilliant and exciting book illuminates how representational practices of violence are co-constitutive of power and resistance.”
—Pacific Affairs
