Herndon on Lincoln
Letters

WILLIAM H. HERNDON

Edited by Douglas L. Wilson and Rodney O. Davis

"A major scholarly achievement that will be of great value to Lincoln biographers and scholars."
—James M. McPherson

"An eye-opening look at many facets of Lincoln: his parents (the father illiterate, the mother from what Herndon calls 'a lecherous family'); his pastimes (he loved playing chess and handball); his lax parenting style (he was 'a tool or a slave' to his young boys, letting them run wild in the law office); and his predictions (he foresaw his assassination, saying more than once, 'Billy, I feel as if I shall meet with some terrible end')."
—Wall Street Journal

392 pp. 6 x 9. 1 b & w photo. 2016.
Hardcover 978-0-252-03981-2. $35.00; E-book

The Lincoln-Douglas Debates

The Lincoln Studies Center Edition

EDITED BY RODNEY O. DAVIS AND DOUGLAS L. WILSON

"Though based on the same basic transcripts that Lincoln and most subsequent scholars have used, Davis and Wilson have corrected the irregular paragraphing, arbitrary punctuation, and occasionally garbled transcriptions in the originals. The result is a definitive new edition that is far more readable and almost certainly more reliable."
—New York Review of Books

"This edition of the Abraham Lincoln–Stephen Douglas debates surpasses all previous editions."
—Journal of American History

392 pp. 6.125 x 9.25. 2014.
Paper 978-0-252-07992-4. $20.00; E-book

The Civil War Diary of Gideon Welles, Lincoln's
Secretary of the Navy

The Original Manuscript Edition

GIDEON WELLES

Edited by William E. Gienapp and Erica L. Gienapp

Foreword by James M. McPherson

"This diary—especially in its original, fresh, unexpurgated form as presented here—is surely one of the most important building blocks for our understanding of the Civil War."
—From the foreword by James M. McPherson

"Extremely important for all libraries. Essential."
—Choice

880 pp. 6.125 x 9.25. 14 b & w photos. 2014.
