All Our Trials
Prisons, Policing, and the Feminist Fight to End Violence
EMILY L. THUMA
If we are to build an abolitionist feminist future, we would be wise to pay attention to the antiracist queer feminist politics of these activists. We owe a debt of gratitude to them for paving the way, and to Thuma for chronicling their struggles.”
—Angela Y. Davis

Big Sister
Feminism, Conservatism, and Conspiracy in the Heartland
ERIN M. KEMPKER
“This book does an excellent job of showing how groups on the far right, at least since the early Cold War, have been linked by a common countersubversive ideology. This is really creative and original work.”—Kathryn S. Olmsted, author of Real Enemies: Conspiracy Theories and American Democracy, World War I to 9/11

Leaders of Their Race
Educating Black and White Women in the New South
SARAH H. CASE
“Case has beautifully written a strong argument about the central purpose of these schools and how they compare, with emphasis on both similarities and differences. . . . Case has a strong sense of changes over time, even as she documents continuity.”—Joan Marie Johnson, author of Southern Women at the Seven Sister Colleges: Feminist Values and Social Activism, 1875–1915

Starring Women
Celebrity, Patriarchy, and American Theater, 1790–1850
SARA E. LAMPERT
“An excellent intervention in women’s history and theater history, with significant new insights into the precarious gender politics that accompanied star female actors’ appearance.”
—Carolyn Eastman, author of A Nation of Speechifiers: Making an American Public after the Revolution
