Women, Gender, and Sexuality in American History

Lost in the USA
American Identity from the Promise Keepers to the Million Mom March
DEBORAH GRAY WHITE
“A beautiful book and a very important one. By addressing a key dimension of mass protest that has received too little attention from historians, White forces us to shift the questions we ask of protest movements.”—Annelise Orleke, author of Rethinking American Women’s Activism

Women against Abortion
Inside the Largest Moral Reform Movement of the Twentieth Century
KARISSA HAUßEBEG
“This book is an eye opener—a serious, feminist, and respectful history of women in the anti-abortion movement.”—Linda Gordon, author of The Moral Property of Women: A History of Birth Control Politics in America
Publication for this book was supported by funding from the Dean’s Office of the School of Liberal Arts at Tulane University.

Beyond Respectability
The Intellectual Thought of Race Women
BRITTNEY C. COOPER
“Through exacting analysis, a feminist lens, and her signature verve, Cooper establishes the centrality of black women’s ideas to twentieth-century political thought. This is a pathbreaking history of ideas.”—Martha S. Jones, author of All Bound Up Together: The Woman Question in African American Public Culture, 1830–1900
208 pp. 6 x 9. 6 b & w photos. 2017. Paper 978-0-252-08248-1. $25.95; E-book

Colored No More
Reinventing Black Womanhood in Washington, D.C.
TREVA B. LINDSEY
“Fresh research, illuminated by feminist theory, reveals how ‘New Negro Womanhood’ became a framework through which African American women developed modern identities. The politics of respectability confront the politics of pleasure in this outstanding study.”—Martha S. Jones, author of All Bound Up Together: The Woman Question in African American Public Culture, 1830–1900

Lucretia Mott Speaks
The Essential Speeches and Sermons
LUCRETIA MOTT
Edited by Christopher Densmore, Carol Faulkner, Nancy Hewitt, and Beverly Wilson Palmer
“Eye-opening and invigorating. The editors have, quite sensibly, employed a light editorial hand, preferring to let Mott’s speeches take center stage, and to let Mott herself stand in the spotlight. This is a wonderful collection.”—Anne Boylan, author of Women’s Rights in the United States: A History in Documents
304 pp. 6.125 x 9.25. 7 b & w photos. April 2017. Hardcover 978-0-252-04079-5. $75.00; E-book

Nursing Civil Rights
Gender and Race in the Army Nurse Corps
CHARISSA J. THREAT
“Threat effectively threads her argument, that although race and gender were key Civil Rights forces, labor and economics were also critical in shaping the agenda. . . . She effectively uses nursing, as should other scholars, to understand broader social and political issues.”—Journal of the History of Medicine
216 pp. 6 x 9. 2 b & w photos, 1 map, 8 tables. 2015. Paper 978-0-252-08077-7. $25.00; E-book

Reverend Addie Wyatt
Faith and the Fight for Labor, Gender, and Racial Equality
MARCIA WALKER-MCWILLIAMS
“Reverend Addie Wyatt lived a firm commitment to her Christian faith, labor activism, women’s equality, and racial justice as all essential for her vision of freedom. Here, we are presented with a complex piece of the past, a life of liberation that can instigate and inspire us.”—Davarian L. Baldwin, author of Chicago’s New Negroes: Modernity, the Great Migration, and Black Urban Life

Women, Gender, and Sexuality in American History

Anna Howard Shaw

The Work of Woman Suffrage

TRISHA FRANZEN

“A thoughtful addition to our understanding of an important figure in the suffrage movement. It will do what its author intends: force all students of women’s history to reevaluate Anna Howard Shaw as well as the cliché doldrums of the movement.”—American Historical Review

Paper 978-0-252-07962-7. $32.00; E-book

A Choice Outstanding Academic Title

When Tenants Claimed the City

The Struggle for Citizenship in New York City Housing

ROBERTA GOLD

“Roberta Gold ably chronicles tenant organization in New York City from the end of World War II through the 1970s. . . . Gold shows that women played a central role in tenant activities such as fighting redevelopments schemes and defending rent control but were less central in others, such as union-sponsored cooperatives. . . . A rich account of a movement that put its stamp on modern New York City.”—Journal of American History 344 pp. 6.125 x 9.25. 22 b & w photos, 1 map. 2014.

Hardcover 978-0-252-03818-1. $57.00; E-book

No Votes for Women

The New York State Anti-Suffrage Movement

SUSAN GOODIER

“By focusing on New York, Goodier is able to devote particular attention to two suffrage referenda that took place in that state in 1915 and 1957, and here she makes an important contribution to scholarship. . . . An innovative account of the 1917 New York referendum that will command the attention of all scholars who seek to understand the vicissitudes of the women’s movement.”—Journal of the Gilded Age and Progressive Era

Paper 978-0-252-07898-9. $27.00; E-book

Cold War Progressives

Women’s Interracial Organizing for Peace and Freedom

JACQUELINE CASTLEDINE

“The first full-fledged history of what was arguably some of the most innovative interracial organizing in Progressive-era and postwar American history.”—American Historical Review

“A lively introduction to the diverse constituency of a postwar Popular Front along with much-appreciated biographies of many progressive female activists.”—Journal of American History

232 pp. 6 x 9. 6 b & w photos. 2012.
Hardcover 978-0-252-03726-9. $47.00; E-book

Black Women and Politics

in New York City

JULIE A. GALLAGHER

“Gallagher has written an insightful, in-depth narrative and analysis of the interconnectedness of race and gender discrimination in US society. An important contribution to both black women’s history and New York State’s political history.”—Choice 272 pp. 6 x 9. 12 b & w photos, 1 map, 1 table. 2012.

Paper 978-0-252-08056-2. $28.00; E-book

Leaders of Their Race

Educating Black and White Women in the New South

SARAH H. CASE

How two schools prepared women to modernize and reunify the South.

“Case has beautifully written a strong argument about the central purpose of these schools and how they compare, with emphasis on both similarities and differences. . . . Case has a strong sense of changes over time, even as she documents continuity.”—Joan Marie Johnson, author of Southern Women at the Seven Sister Colleges: Feminist Values and Social Activism, 1875–1915

Paperback 978-0-252-00279-5. $28.00; E-book

Beauty Shop Politics

African American Women’s Activism in the Beauty Industry

TIFFANY M. GILL

“The scope of the material and interdisciplinary scholarship evident throughout the book makes Beauty Shop Politics a comprehensive addition to the bookshelves of women’s studies, African-American studies, and entrepreneurial studies, as well as to history, business, and political-science departments. It is a truly interdisciplinary endeavor.”—The Chronicle of Higher Education

208 pp. 6 x 9. 7 b & w photos. 2010.
Paper 978-0-252-07866-1. $27.00; E-book
