The Working Class in American History

Death to Fascism
Louis Adamic’s Fight for Democracy
JOHN P. ENYEART
“This is a very important book. It challenges the emphasis in so much recent radical history on the centrality—for good or ill—of the Communist Party, and sees the broader left, of which Adamic was a leading member, as central. Readers will come to care about Adamic, his struggles, and even his contradictions.”—David Roediger, author of Class, Race, and Marxism
Paperback 978-0-252-08432-4. $25.00; E-book 978-0-252-05135-7. $19.95

To Live Here, You Have to Fight
How Women Led Appalachian Movements for Social Justice
JESSICA WILKERSON
“This book uncovers new links between mid-century social change movements and offers a critical reminder that the fire for justice smolders even when victories are few.”—Anne M. Valk, author of Radical Sisters: Second-Wave Feminism and Black Liberation in Washington, D.C.
280 pp. 6 x 9. 10 b & w photos. 2018.

Dockworker Power
Race and Activism in Durban and the San Francisco Bay Area
PETER COLE
Brings to light surprising parallels in the experiences of dockers half a world away from each other. It also offers a new perspective on how workers can change their conditions and world.
320 pp. 6.125 x 9.25. 5 b & w photos, 5 line drawings, 2 maps. 2018.
Paperback 978-0-252-05082-4. $35.00; E-book 978-0-252-05089-3. $19.95

Disruption in Detroit
Autoworkers and the Elusive Postwar Boom
DANIEL J. CLARK
“Exposes the myth of the prosperous postwar auto worker and deftly deals with the delicate interplay among larger national economic forces, auto industry and auto union policies, and the lives of those who labored and lived in the Motor City in the decade and a half after World War II.”—Stephen Meyer, author of Manhood on the Line: Working Class Masculinities in the American Heartland
Paperback 978-0-252-05070-9. $28.00; E-book 978-0-252-05075-6. $19.95

The World in a City
Multiethnic Radicalism in Early Twentieth-Century Los Angeles
DAVID M. STRUTHERS
“Struther’s mix of research and fluid storytelling takes us back to an era of soaring hopes and racial togetherness that, for a time, sustained a grand vision of a Los Angeles that might have been.”—Mike Davis, author of City of Quartz: Excavating the Future in Los Angeles
Paperback 978-0-252-04825-6. $28.00; E-book 978-0-252-05131-9. $19.95

Women Have Always Worked
A Concise History
Second Edition
ALICE KESSLER-HARRIS
“While adeptly covering centuries of women’s work, this wise and wide-ranging survey engages big questions about values in private and public life, and always keeps in view the range of life-situations among women of various descriptions. It is a treat to have this revised edition.”
—Nancy F. Cott, author of Public Vows: A History of Marriage and the Nation 254 pp. 6 x 9. 76 b & w photos, 4 charts, 1 table. 2018.
Paperback 978-0-252-05082-4. $35.00; E-book 978-0-252-05089-3. $19.95

Labor’s Mind
A History of Working-Class Intellectual Life
TOBIAS HIGBIE
“Higbie makes the point that, contrary to widespread prejudices about working class intelligence, laborers were not blank slates. They often brought an enthusiasm, a determination to rise above injurious labels, and a sense of adventure. A valuable addition to a still under-researched topic.”—Laura Hapke, author of Labor’s Canvas: American Working-Class History and the WPA Art of the 1930s
Paperback 978-0-252-04802-7. $25.00; E-book 978-0-252-05109-8. $19.95
